TRAINING COURSE

On Social Entrepreneurship and Sustainability

WITH THE TOOL OF CREATIVE RECYCLING

MIERCUREA CIUC, ROMANIA
16-24 SEPTEMBER 2016

DREAM UP

WHY

We look at social entrepreneurship as a way of life in which the individual is aware what he is capable to do and most importantly how to use all the resources which surround him in order to create a change. The training is built up in a way that it starts from individual level where we define personal values and goals, we discover our own learning- and working styles by creating design objects in practice, and by working together with people from other countries, always in different combinations.

Design thinking, participation, and social inclusion are the key elements of the procedure of creation – where 'creating' and 'design' means anything what the human mind can imagine and the human action can realize. We deal with sustainability from a practical side as well – how the individual can live a sustainable life economically, environmentally and socially, simply by connecting the already existing resources and best practices. How to make our enterprise sustainable from the same 3 aspects as well. Day by day team work and the group context gets more in focus and how we turn ideas into reality.

This training is for you if

You want to learn and practice the entrepreneurial skill set in order to create an inspiring activity for yourself that makes income

You want to develop the competences of 'creativity' and 'entrepreneurship' through creative recycling techniques and other means of self-expression

You promote sustainability in venture creation- and management, in lifelong learning and in environmental aspects

You promote innovation in youth work by implementing new methods in entrepreneurial education

WHAT AND HOW

Program and method

In the training we use a special method which is a combination of „learning by experience“ and „creative recycling“. Learning by doing and simply experiencing situations out of your comfort zone will allow you to observe your actions, get to know your working style, reflect on it and adapt this knowledge to different life situations – in this training focusing especially on social entrepreneurship and sustainability, and how to realize your ideas by making an impact. We use creation and creative recycling as a simple process to support you in reflecting on your actions, see the result, and try out how you appear and function in a group context. Creative recycling also allows us to look at sustainability from a very practical point of view.

The program contains short lectures, team building elements, creative recycling processes in different combinations: individual- , pair- and group creation, sharings, reflection group meetings, prototyping, outdoor elements, testing, land art, a whole morning of living library with case studies, street survey, business model making, planning. You can expect the program to be intense as we also expect participants who are eager to learn. The program will start every day at 09.30 in the morning and in some days we will also have sessions after dinner which can last till 22.00.

Apply only if you will keep your commitment and participation through the 9 days of the training.

TO WHOM

Participants

We aim to select participants who are actively working in any form in youth work, in social entrepreneurship, managing their own organisations or are about to open one. The program is originally tailored for those who did not start their organisations yet, so in the training they have the chance to gain knowledge and practice in advance. For the ones who are working in their own organisations already the training is a good chance for evaluation and planning forward. Also for freelancers, unemployed young people, designers, young people who are motivated to realize their ideas and make their own workplace. For youth workers, peer educators, volunteers, coaches, trainers who are working with young people and want to apply the method of creative recycling in social entrepreneurship education.

You don't need to have any specific degree or previous experience to participate in this training, all you need is your motivation and willingness to learn something new! The language of the training will be English, a safe medium knowledge is enough, we will use an easy-to-understand level to make sure that everyone can follow the program. Participants must be 18+, there is no upper age limit.

TRAINERS

Anna Sipos from Hungary, youth trainer and Co-Founder of ReCreativity Social Enterprise is going to lead the program together with an international team of experts. Anna has a master diploma in Education Management, she completed her internship programme in Brussels, in the Flemish Ministry of Education where she has gained experience in programme tailoring and curriculum development. She launched ReCreativity Social Enterprise 3 years ago and together with the other co-founders they are making it sustainable by running successfully also an upcycled brand called Cimbi next to the trainings. She has more than 5 years of experience as a trainer, using mainly the method of creative recycling and experimental learning in different fields: in social entrepreneurship, personal development, communication, sustainability education, coaching and mentoring.
