Objectives of the project

The overall aim of the project is to create a learning space and practice for employability and personal development tools, methods and practices to be used by those working with young people (in any capacity: formal, non-formal, vocational, etc.) so as to support them in pursuing diverse career prospects. This aim will be achieved by means of fulfilling the following objectives:

- Improving the participants' competences required in facilitating personal and professional development of young people they work with
- Providing space for sharing of experiences and good practices in the subject matter (here in particular: development of key life and employability skills)
- Gaining first-hand experience in a number of personal and professional development tools
- Empower participants in acting as multipliers so as to build up to the experience gained during the project and having it spread to relevant stakeholders afterwards
- Exploring possibilities for future cooperation among participants and partner promoters engaged.

The Training Course

The TRAINING COURSE (21-28 March) will take place in Prizren, Kosovo and will gather 30 participants, 4 facilitators/trainers and 2 staff members coming together to gain skills, knowledge and develop necessary attitudes related to supporting young people in working on their personal development and further increasing employability skills. The training will be based on the principles of learning by doing where those attending will have the opportunity to step into the shoes of their learners and try out some of the personal and professional development tools upon themselves. This experience will be crucial when carried forward to the successive stages of the project. Finally, participants will benefit from the presence of external experts who will shed light on the latest developments within the area.

VENUE

The Training Course will be held in Prizren, Kosovo, a small city of around 180,000 inhabitants. Prizren is known as a true open air museum, one of the most beautiful towns of Kosova. It is situated on the slopes of the Sharr Mountains and on the banks of the river Lumbardhi/Bistrica.

Prizren is recognized as one of the most important cities of the country, thanks to its cultural heritage and its geographical position situated below National Park of Sharr Mountains, on the border of a fertile plain. Prizren's delightful city center is the best-preserved and the most picturesque in Kosovo, with a good collection of religious and profane buildings and quaint residential quarters, all within close range of each other. The city's long tradition of religious and ethnic tolerance is apparent in the close proximity of Catholic and Orthodox churches, mosques and tekkes, many of them hundreds of years old.
